The GREAT Outdoors

Three ways to soak in the sun in style

modern mix:

To infuse an outdoor room with cool yet classic flavor, start with a mix of streamlined furnishings, then pair them with fabrics and accents in neutral colors. Here, crisp, extra-deep pale-green cushions on sleek, chocolate-brown wicker-look seating—designed by Ty for Sears—deliver casual comfort without sacrificing style. A fresh take on drum tables made of creamy ceramic adds subtle Asian influence, while retro-style planters in a lively coral hue inject a thoroughly modern pop of color and form. Durable indoor/outdoor pillows and a rug in geometric patterns bring notes of visual interest to the understated palette.
